DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Allen et al (US 4739176).

With respect to claim 1 Allen discloses a yarn inspection system in that a detector scans the thread illuminated by an element, wherein the illumination system design to illuminate the threads moved in its longitudinal direction a cavity extends longitudinally and transversely to the thread and the detector is arranged in an axis of symmetry of the cavity, (figure 1, 2-4, and col. 3, lines 28-62 and col. 2 line 65 through col. 3 line 22) as claimed. However, he fails to disclose the cavity adjacent to the thread with opening for light sources, as claimed. But, as seen from the figure 2 and 4 the light source is located in a spherical design above the thread 10 and the thread is adjacent to the cavity. Therefore one ordinary skilled in the art at the time of invention can simply use the design of the Allen in order to have the thread move adjacent to the light source to inspect the thread.

With respect to claims 2-3 Allen further discloses the spherical symmetrical in design, and the thread is guided perpendicular to the axis of symmetry, (see figure 4) as claimed.

With respect to claim 4-6, Allen further discloses illumination element has a shape of a hemisphere cut, thread runs parallel to the plane the illumination element has a plurality of opening for the light source, and the blue light is use as a light source, (see figure 4, the light source 52 and 53 are approximately the shape of hemisphere, and there exist two plurality of the openings for the illumination to the thread which runs parallel and see col. 5, lines 12-15 for use of blue light) as claimed.

Claim 7 is rejected for the same reasons as set forth in the rejection of claims 4-5 because claim 7 is claiming subject matter similar to the combination of claims 4 and 5.

With respect to claim 4-6, Allen further discloses cover that acts as a background for the thread, (see col. 2, lines 62-65) as claimed.
